Greencastle won the County High school basketball championship from Russellville by a score of 19 to 14 in the final game of the tournament played here Saturday evening. The game was hard fought and the score was close, the teams being evenly matched.

The first half ended 10 to 9 in favor of the local basketekers. There was one time when the R. H. S. tossers led the Greencastle quintet 9 to 8, but it seemed a Russellville victory as probable but a field tally shown by Zeis put the locals on their feet.

Shortly after the second half began Coach Newgent's crew started a rally but was unable to attain a lead due to the strong defensive of the locals. The Russellville lads were bigger than the Greencastle boys but each Smith's proteges were faster and had more accurate team work.

Sewell, who made six points for a team was the star for the losers. He also played a good game at floor guard for Russellville.

Immediately following the game Superintendent Frank Wallace of the Putnam County schools awarded the winning Cup trophy to the winning team (Greencastle) and to the losing team (Russellville) a basketball. The lineup and summary are as follows:

REMONSTRANCE IS IGNORED BY COMMISSIONERS

COUNTY BOARD ORDERS AUDITOR TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF SEVERAL ROADS—GENERAL REMONSTRANCE DOES NOT AFFECT SITUATION—ACTION COULD BE TAKEN TO PREVENT IMPROVEMENTS AT TIME BONDS ARE ORDERED SOLD

Remonstrances filed by Putnam county taxpayers asking the county commissioners to delay action on all road construction work, on the grounds that the further building of roads at this time is too burdensome on the tax payers, were denied by the county commissioners at their regular monthly meeting Monday.

The commissioners were advised by the county attorney that there was no law under which the commissioners could base any action in heeding the request of the petitioners. The remonstrance reached the commissioners at a time when the board had under consideration the advertising for bids for the improvement of several roads. The commissioners ordered the county auditor to proceed with the advertisements.

According to the commissioners the tax payers in the townships affected can, at the time the bonds for the improvements are advertised for sale, file remonstrances against the improvements and possibly block the continuation of the work.

NEXT SATURDAY LAST DAY FOR STAR STORE

Next Saturday will be the last day the Harry Goldberg, Star Store will be operated in Greencastle. Mr. Goldberg is now in the hands of a receiver and the stock here will be taken to Brazil and sold there.

The sale now in progress will absolutely close on Saturday night according to the announcement made today.

NO PARTIALITY TO BE SHOWN

Superintendent Talkington of the state penal farm, when told of the Haag brothers surrender was asked as to what task he would put the Indianapolis merchants. He said they would have to take their turn along with the other prisoners, as no partiality could be shown them.

The house of representatives adjourned today within a few minutes of convening today, in honor of the memory of Representative Asa E. Matthews of St. Joseph county, who died at the Deaconess Hospital, Monday night. Adjournment was taken until Wednesday morning.

FIFTY STUDENTS APPLY FOR LOANS

Dr. Hillary A. Gobin, chairman of the student fund of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, said Tuesday that nearly $4,000 will have been loaned to DePaul students by spring.

Forty students borrowed $2,700.00 from the fund last semester. Dr. Gobin had $6,500 at his disposal. All ready fifty students have applied for second semester loans.

The money is raised by children of Methodist Sunday schools and apportioned to Methodist colleges.

URGES SUPPORT FOR HARDING

SENATOR LEWIS TELLS DEMOCRATS POLICIES OF WILSON ARE BEING VINDICATED

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Democratic editors and leading party workers, numbering nearly 500, last night attended the annual dinner of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association in the Riley room of the Claypool hotel. Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois delivered the principal address on "Vindicated Democracy," urging the support of President elect Harding in his administration in order to avert another war, and declaring that the policies of President Wilson are being vindicated by the Republican administration.

Mrs. Olive Beldon Lewis of Indianapolis also spoke at the banquet. E. W. Pickhardt of Jasper, president of the Editorial Association presided as toastmaster.

Senator Lewis's Address

Senator Lewis in his address said, in part:

"The immediate duty of the national Democracy is to behold the European nations in hatred of the United States and all Asia as an enemy. Let Democracy know that the only way this country can avert another war is by unity of action in every matter that contests for American supremacy against European intrigue and Asiatic attack.

"Democracy must support President Harding in every move that is for America. We must back up his administration in every policy that prepares the United States to defend against its foreign foes or can make for the peace of the world.

"Woodrow Wilson is being nominated for the Democracy in 1924 by the adoption of every international policy of the Wilson administration—just as Cleveland after defeat in 1888 was by the Harrison Republican administration made again President for the Democracy in 1892.

R. THOMPSON IS GUILTY IN LIQUOR CASE

MAYOR BARTLEY SENTENCES RAYMOND THOMPSON TO THIRTY DAYS ON THE STATE FARM AND FINES HIM $100—FARM SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED PENDING GOOD BEHAVIOR

Raymond Thompson, of north Greencastle, was before mayor Bartley on Tuesday night and pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession unlawfully. The Mayor sentenced Thompson to thirty days on the penal farm and fined him $100. The farm sentence was suspended, but the fine was paid by Thompson.

Thompson was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Marshall O'Hair as he got off the 1:20 east bound traction car from Terre Haute. He had eight gallons of "white mule" whiskey in a suit case in his possession when he was arrested.

Thompson testified in the trial that he bought the "mule" in Terre Haute but that he did not know the man from whom he bought it. He said however, that he would know the man if he were to see him again. He told the mayor that he did not buy the liquor with any intention of selling it, but that he had bought it for his own personal use.

Thompson was before Judge Hughes once before for bootlegging, but he was acquitted for lack of evidence. It was estimated last night that the total cost of the case was something over $500.

WABASH HOLDS PURDUE, 24-22

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8.—Wabash staved off Purdue's rush in the closing minutes here tonight and won 24 to 22, for the second victory of the season over the Boiler Makers. Purdue grabbed the lead after ten minutes of play and was in front, 9-8, at the half way mark. Starting the second half Goldsberry, Thorn and Adams gave Wabash a 19-13 advantage and soon raised it to 21-14 but White asserted himself from the foul line and before the Scarlet could count again had reduced the gap to 21-20. White was wonderful and Miller defended the Scarlet goal stubbornly. The Wabash attack moved smoothly and Burns and Grater played a strong defensive game.

Counsel for the labor leaders announced an appeal would be taken to the supreme court of the United States if necessary.

TEACHER AND 7 PUPILS DIE IN EXPLOSION

CAN THOUGHT TO HAVE CONTAINED TEN QUARTS OF FLUID BLOWS UP WHEN DROPPED ACCIDENTALLY BY BOY—BODIES TORN TO ATOMS—AUTHORITIES SUSPECT LIQUID STOLEN AND HIDDEN IN RAVINE—PROBE IS STARTED

VINCENNES, Ind., Feb. 7.—Eight persons, seven young boys and a man are dead, and another boy is believed injured fatally as the result of an explosion of nitroglycerin which occurred this afternoon at the crossroads schoolhouse about two miles west of Lawrenceville, Ill., west of this city.

Lester Groves, 7 years old, brother of Raymond Groves, is in a serious condition at his home and his death is expected momentarily. Both of his eyes were blown out and his ears torn off.

All of the victims met instant death with the exception of Henry Legg and McCausland. Legg died while being brought to a local hospital this afternoon and McCausland died in the hospital late tonight.

Think Ten Quarts Exploded

The can which exploded was a ten quart container and is believed to have been filled with the explosive. Authorities believe it was stolen from a factory located not far from the school. The factory has not been in operation for about two years and some time ago it was reported large quantities of the explosive had been taken.

The can was found on the banks of the creek by school children several days ago and for several days it had been kicked around over the school yard. It is said the boys had been cautioned not to handle the can. Today one of the boys who had picked up the can accidentally dropped it and the explosion followed.

The explosive is believed to have been hidden in a ravine near the abandoned factory and authorities explained that recent rains which had swollen the creek had probably resulted in the can being carried away by the water and deposited on the bank near the school. A thorough investigation is to be made, police assert.

Teacher Tried To Give Warning

Mr. Bunyon, the teacher was enroute from the frame school house to the outbuilding for coal and seeing the boys playing with the container was hurrying to caution them. Just as the teacher reached the scene, the explosion occurred. The eighty or more other children attending the school became frantic and it was some little time before persons living near were informed of the terrible explosion.

The bodies of the boys were in most instances blown to bits. The body of Mr. Bunyon was blown about forty feet, being found seated at a tree as though asleep. An investigation failed to disclose a broken bone and but a few scratches on his body.

The explosion was so terrific that it was possible to find only a part of the bodies of the youngsters. In trees almost a hundred yards away could be found the stockings, caps, and mittens which some of the boys were wearing.

Authorities Start Probe

Most of the victims were sons of wealthy farmers. The school house, which was recently erected was damaged; every window in the building was shattered but the walls were not damaged.

Lawrence county, in which the explosion occurred is in the Illinois oil field region. Nitroglycerin is used in "shooting" oil wells. The authorities started an investigation shortly after the explosion.

NEGLIGENCE A BIG QUESTION IN BANK CASE

DID FARMERS STATE BANK OFFICIALS USE PROPER PRECAUTIONS IN SAFEGUARDING VALUABLE PAPERS LEFT IN THEIR CARE—ROBBERY CASE IS ATTRACTING STATE WIDE ATTENTION

Did the officers of the Farmer's State Bank of Bainbridge use proper precautions in their care for valuable papers left in their care for safe keeping.

This is the big question which is being thrashed out in the case of Roscoe White against the Farmer's State Bank of Bainbridge now on trial in the Putnam Circuit court.

It is agreed by attorneys that a bank is not liable for loss of valuable papers left with it for gratuitous safe keeping. If the bank charges its customers for this service then the bank is liable for any loss, but if there is no pay for the service then the bank is not liable unless it has been negligent in its care of the papers.

On the question of whether the Bainbridge banking officials, whose bank was robbed by yeggs, were negligent or not, hinges the result of the suit now on trial.

White, who lost near $2,000 in bonds and stamps in the robbery, is attempting to prove by evidence that the bank officials were guilty of gross negligence. The plaintiff is contending that in the first place the vault in which the bonds were kept was not a reasonable safe vault and could easily be entered by robbers; that the bank officials were negligent in not having the papers in the vault insured against robbery, and that the bank officials, knowing the condition of the vault should have brought the bonds to a Greencastle bank where they could have been placed in a burglar proof vault.

Several persons who lost bonds in the robbery have been called as witnesses by the plaintiff in an attempt to prove that the bank officials were negligent.

Interest in the case is state wide and the trial is being followed by attorneys and bankers all over the state and in adjoining states. Many other similar robberies have occurred in Indiana and in many places similar cases are pending. So the result of this trial will be eagerly awaited.

There is little doubt but that the case will be appealed to the higher court regardless of the verdict of the jury.

Mrs. W. O. Timmons of Greencastle and Mrs. U. V. O'Daniels of Greencastle are the first women to serve on a petit jury in the Putnam Circuit court. Mrs. O'Daniels and Mrs. Timmons were accepted by each the plaintiff and the defense in the Bainbridge bank robbery case, which is being tried in the Putnam Circuit court this week.

The jury, which was accepted late Monday afternoon is made up of the following persons:

Mrs. U. V. O'Daniels, Greencastle.
Mrs. W. O. Timmons, Greencastle.
T. B. Howlett, Clinton Township.
William Moser Jefferson township.
Ott Rector, Greencastle.
Frank Vaughn, Greencastle.
Frank Scott, Russell township.
C. O. Davis, Cloverdale township.
Chas Dial, Washington township.
Oscar McCullough, Greencastle.
Ivan Ruark, Madison township.
S. C. Perry, Greencastle.

HILLORY COFFMAN, AGE 50 DEAD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral services were held at the church at Bainbridge on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Beside Mrs. Leyenberger one other sister, Mrs. Albert Hubbard of Bainbridge and one brother Ed. Coffman of this city survive. Mr. Coffman was a member of the Bainbridge Masonic Lodge.

MANY INDIANA COUNTIES IN SALVATION ARMY MOVEMENT

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—Twenty one Indiana counties today have joined hands with the Salvation Army in its 1921 service program for this state statistics, compiled at the Indiana headquarters here and announced by Brigadier George F. Casler, show.

To form the connecting link between the Salvation Army's institutions and facilities for correcting and preventing all forms of social disorder and their local cases needing such attention influential citizens in these counties have banded themselves together as County Advisory Boards and will work with and for the Salvation Army in its promulgation of the same sort of service which this organization has been giving to the people of Indiana for the past forty years.

County advisory boards, figures on file this week show, have been formed at Monticello, Delphi, Wabash, Bluffton, Decatur, Hartford City, Tip-ton, Noblesville, Lebanon, Crawfordsville, Rochville, Brazil, Bloomfield, Greensburg, Connersville, Liberty, Columbus, Rushville, Greencastle, Portland and Martinsville.

PUTS REMEDY UP TO STATE LEGISLATURE

INDIANA STATE CAPITOL, Feb. 4.—The state board of tax commissioners has received a petition from a number of citizens of Greencastle asking that provision be made for the taxation of property of Greek letter fraternities at DePauw university. The petition is similar to one received by the board recently from citizens of West Lafayette regarding the taxation of property of the organizations at Purdue university.

Fred A. Sims, chairman of the board, said that the petition was returned to Greencastle with a letter stating that the matter is one which citizens should refer to the Legislature in the event they wish the present law exempting fraternity property repealed. At the time of the submission of the Purdue petition, Mr. Sims called for an opinion from attorney General U. S. Lesh on the question. The attorney general held that the property is exempted from taxation under an act of the Legislature.

GIVES $25 TO THE EUROPEAN RELIEF FUND

With the receipt of a check for $25 from Mrs. J. E. McCurry and Miss Mary Ella McCurry, the committee in charge of the Hoover European Relief Fund campaign in Putnam County is enthusiastic that the Putnam county quota of $4,800 will be reached.

The success of the Invisible Guest banquet at which more than $1,000 was raised has given the committee new encouragement and renewed energy now is being put into the drive.

The banquet did not by any means end the drive as some persons have been led to believe. It was simply a movement to stimulate the drive. The donation of Mrs. McCurry and her daughter, today, added new inspiration to the workers and the receipts from this morning's Moving Picture show, given by Alonzo Cook, also helped a lot.

WHAT WILL RENO DO IF GOVERNOR SIGNS MEASURE

RENO, Nev., Feb. 5.—An amendment to the Nevada divorce law which provides that every applicant for divorce must have been a resident of the state for six months, preceding commencement of divorce action, was passed by the assembly of the state legislature this morning and now goes to the Governor for signature. The amendment prohibits the "short term" class of divorce except for bona fide residents of the state.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL PRAYER MEETING

The Missionary Societies of the Greencastle churches have banded together and will hold an all day Prayer meeting February 18th in the Locust street M. E. Church beginning at 10:30 A. M. Special prayer will be offered that the Savior's Command; "Go Ye into all the World and preach the gospel to every creature," shall be obeyed.

TIGERS HUMBLE IRISH 31 TO 26

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 3.—Fought to a standstill in the first half DePauw had the punch to come back in the final period tonight and carry on to a 31 to 26 triumph over Notre Dame in a game marked by fast passing and clever team work.

Newspaper Costs

The Herald-Democrat gives more for the money, to both readers and advertisers, than during 1914. This is not only true as a quantitative proposition, but when costs are considered the facts are still more striking. Only by virtue of a larger output, only by taking advantage of what may properly be called quantity production, has it been possible for the greater value, compared to cost, to be delivered to the buyer.

The following article, which recently appeared in several different magazines, including "Volts" the little house Organ of the Wabash Valley Electric Company. It is reproduced here and should be considered by the general public:

ADVANCES IN NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIPTION AND AD RATES

SURVEY SHOWS INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION JUSTIFIES RAISE; STRIKING PARRALEL BETWEEN NEWSPAPERS AND PUBLIC UTILITIES IS POINTED OUT

Newspapers which have advanced their subscription rates 100 and 200 per cent, and advertising rates from 50 to 150 percent, are justified in their action.

This is the conclusion after an extensive survey made at the request of advertising managers of utility companies, accessories and equipment concerns and utility investment houses.

The report shows the striking parrallel existing in many points between the utility business and newspaper business. It makes this important point: That newspapers and public utilities in many respects are in the same boat.

They cannot suspend operations when production costs become troublesome or operating conditions unfavorable. A manufacturing plant can suspend. A newspaper or a utility corporation cannot; both are 24 hour services.

Survey Answers Questions

The report on advances in newspaper rates answered these questions:

(1) Why have newspaper subscription rates advanced 100 to 200 per cent and advertising rates 50 to 150 per cent?

(2) Why do these rates continue to advance when the price of some commodities are declining?

(3) How can newspapers justify such advances, after previous big advances, in view of the difficulties that some utilities, afflicted with the same high cost problems have had in increasing rates?

The investigation laid bare facts that show the first question can be answered with the statement that newspaper costs increased from August 1, 1914, to January 1, 1920 as follows: Paper, 212.50 per cent; ink, 200 per cent; machinery, equipment 104 per cent; labor 91.75 per cent.

And to show that this year such expenses have continued to advance, it is stated that from January 1, 1920 to September 1, 1920, an additional cost was recorded as follows: Paper, 48.75 per cent; ink, 16.55 per cent; machinery, equipment, 20 per cent; labor 11 per cent.

Regarding the second question the report makes this point:

"A manufacturing plant or retail store may adjust selling price of products from day to day to meet increased costs of commodities, materials or labor. This has been attested by increases of from 100 to 400 per cent in commodity prices since 1913. In direct contrast due to public regulation by utilities commissions, telephone rates on an average increased but 35 per cent, electric rates but 17 per cent, and gas rates but 41 per cent. In spite of the unregulated prices being charged these companies for the commodities entering into the manufacture of their services. It is clearly to be seen that unregulated prices (to which newspapers are also subject) which rose to such extraordinary heights have a long way to fall before they reach the level of regulated prices."

Cannot Postpone Development

Another point of similarity between the utilities and the newspaper is that they cannot postpone extensions or developments until price conditions are more favorable. To quote the report:

"A manufacturing plant or retail store may postpone extensions or development work until price conditions are favorable. Newspapers, like utilities, cannot. They must extend as demands of their communities require, or injure the community. They must maintain a reasonable degree of efficiency at all times—high production cost notwithstanding. They cannot close down but must buy "at the market" the necessities entering into production, regardless of price. A 24-hour suspension of a newspaper might abrogate advertising contracts and surely would have a depressing effect on all business in the community, as such a lapse on the part of a utility would without doubt work heavy hardship on a community and entail financial loss to the citizens."

In speaking of the substantial increases in the costs of production in the newspaper business the report says:

"The increased cost of newsprint to the newspapers is being justified by manufacturers by statements of the increase in the cost of labor, coal and other factors entering into the cost of manufacturing paper. They say no decline may be looked forward to in the immediate future, and dealers are declining to make contracts with newspapers over a longer period than six months. At this time there appears to be an inadequate supply of print paper.

"The cost of production also has risen since 1914, maintenance and replacement especially having become more costly. But while labor and iron pipe costs were soaring, the average increase in rates for water companies has been something less than 10 per cent.

"It is clear the production costs of newspapers have not declined any more than utility costs have dropped. To the contrary, in all of these services—24 hours a day service—a lapse which would mean loss to the community served as well as loss to the operators of the services, it is found that production costs have increased substantially since January 1, 1920, and in recent months the principal items show no signs of breaking.

Price Decline Not General

"It is clear therefore, that some lines of business are not susceptible to declines to the extent that others may be affected; it is clearly apparent that price decline so far has not been general; that labor, fuel and paper costs will hold for some time to come and that businesses affected by such factors cannot expect conditions such as will permit declines in rates for some time to come.

"Newspaper advertising rates and the prices of subscription, therefore, do not appear to be exorbitant and are in keeping with higher production costs.

"It would be just as reasonable at this time to ask a shoe dealer to sell his shoes at pre-war prices of $3.50 a pair; a clothing merchant to sell suits at $18; a grocer to sell potatoes at 75 cents a bushel; a farmer to sell wheat at 80 cents a bushel; a restaurant proprietor to sell ham eggs at 20 cents an order; a butcher to sell pork chops at three pounds for a quarter; or a baker to sell bread at 5 cents a loaf as it would to ask a newspaper or a utility to sell its products at pre-war rates. The utility business could not survive on lower rates under conditions now existing, than now charged; neither should the newspaper proprietor be expected to.

"It is not to the advantage of the newspaper proprietor, anymore than to the utility to charge more than a fair rate for its service. The newspaper proprietor knows what fair rate is, if anybody does. He speaks with authority and knowledge. He will know when production costs decline to the point that enables him to drop his rates. Just as it is certain that those in the utility business will take action as soon as conditions permit, so it is certain that you will obtain a lower advertising rate from newspapers when the factors permitting such procedure exists."

ND CURIOUS RACE IN MEXICO

be Numbering 20,000 Is Said
to Be Descended From the Germans.

POSITIVE TRUE, SAY NATIVES

by Tell Berlin Ethnologist That the Germans Are Descended From Them—Worship Old Gods and Offer Up Sacrifices.

Monterey, Mex.—It is a fact not generally known even to many ethnologists that there is a tribe or nation of about 20,000 people in Mexico
said to be descendants of the Germans. According to the legends
these aborigines, however, the Germans are descendants of the Miseses, which is the name of the tribe. They inhabit several districts of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. An investigation of the Miseses was made some years ago by Dr. William Bauer, a notional ethnologist of Berlin. He lived several years among the different tribes of Mexico and studied
their history, habits and customs.

The Miseses are rather low in stature and besides they are sometimes deformed," said Doctor Bauer
on the occasion of his recent visit to Monterey. "The hips are broad, the feet flat and their movements are awkward. Their hair is black,
coming over their shoulders. The men have their hair as did the Spanish conquistadors, with shaven crown and as long as possible on the sides. They are conservative in their customs,
lovers of living, and, above all, their dignity. This is still extraordinarily true, although very hard to learn and difficult to hear.

Some of these people are fair-skinned and have a light skin. For this reason they were said to be the descendants of the Germans. In nearly all Mexican history is found this tribe, when they said that they were aborigines of this country. Several more intelligent said that, on the other hand, the Germans were descendants of the Miseses.

Worship Their Old Gods.

Like all other tribes they are very superstitious. They still worship their old gods and offer them up to this day
in the fields, on the hills and along the rivers. I visited several places where I found the remains of sacrifices such as fowls, small dogs, bread,
plate, eggs and fruit. Certain villages have their idols hidden in places
known only to the oldest men of the tribe.

At the most interesting of the tribes in Mexico are the Zapotecas,
who are at present situated in nearly
the whole south of the country and especially in the State of Oaxaca.
The number about 300,000 people.
The people are strong, of large proportions physically, are very handsome, generally good laborers, and intelligent. They live in small straw huts, each having one room.

Many nations of Indians in Mexico
have a social and political future it is the nation of Zapotecas. Because of the famous Mexican revolution, the famous Mexican revolution, was a Zapotecan and was born in Oaxaca, near Tlaxiaco, in the mountains of Oaxaca.

The question of the Mazatecas tribe
is one of the most interesting and difficult problems. I find that, for instance, when questioned, they say that many times they came from the north
but they were unable to tell what part of the great North they came from. They have legends to the effect that they came over the Colorado river and they came to Mexico City they
first in the state of Vera Cruz,
they had repeated battles with
the Spaniards, the founders of Mexico
In these battles the Mazatecas driven over toward the eastern part of the state of Vera Cruz. This has been held by the once
great nation until this day.

They are Wary of Strangers.
It is difficult for a stranger to travel
through their country owing to their superstitious and suspicious nature. They worship idols, but these are buried, and new ones are made each year. This nation in particular has one old custom in connection with its idols. The shell of an egg is taken and, being broken into seven pieces, it is wrapped in seven pieces of cotton cloth. Along with these seven pieces of bark, red and white feathers, and seven grains of corn. These charms, bound together,
are placed one at each corner of every person's tract of land. This will secure a bountiful harvest and will also secure the Indians from injury
from personal enemies.

PRICES RAISED BY ACTION OF SCHOOL HEADS

INDIANA STATE CAPITOL, Feb.
2.—Initial expenditures of Indiana school patrons for new textbooks to be used in five important subjects to elementary grades of the public schools as adopted by the state board of education yesterday, will exceed by $188,303.28, the amount expended for books now in use under old contracts,
according to statistics in the state department of public instruction.

Action of the board in making a clean sweep of the texts now in use
and adopting new books at prevailing high prices will result in a total expenditure of $380,574.13 for books
in these subjects by Indiana parents
as compared with an initial outlay of $192,270.85 under the old contracts.
The figures were obtained by determining the cost of the books in each subject for the grade in which study of the books is first introduced. It is pointed out that these figures represent only the initial outlay for the first year the books are in use and that other purchases of texts made during subsequent years of the five-
year period the contracts are in force
will be proportionately more than the expenditures made under the old contracts during succeeding years.

Hines Opposes Change

L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction made a vigorous fight in the meeting of the board yesterday to prevent adoption of books
at present prices. Even if the board had renewed its contracts for books
now in use there would have been a substantial increase in price, Mr.
Hines pointed out. He urged the board to postpone action in making the adoption until a later date in the hope that prices of the books would fall with other lowering prices. Mr.
Hines, however was supported by only three of the thirteen members of the board.

GRANT SIX BANKS CHARTERS

INDIANA STATE CAPITOL, Feb.
2.—Permission was granted the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company
to open a branch bank at Illinois and Thirtieth streets today by the state charter board. Bank charters were granted to the following institutions:
Banker's Trust Company of Gary, capital
$300,000; Griffith State Bank, Griffith
Capital, $25,000; Liberty
State bank, Indiana Harbor, capital,
$50,000; People's State Bank, east
Chicago, capital $50,000 and Washington State bank, South Bend, capital $50,000. A charter was denied the Farmer's State bank of Griffith.

INDICTED FOR PERJURY

COLUMBUS, Ind., Feb. 2.—Walter Yeley, 30 years old, a farmer living near here, was arrested today and placed in jail on a charge of perjury.
The charge was made in an indictment returned by the Bartholomew
county grand jury before which Yeley testified a few days ago. In court this afternoon Yeley pleaded not guilty and was released under bond of $1,000.

HAMMOND GIRL MISSING; FATHER FEARS KIDNAPPING

HAMMOND, Ind., Feb. 2.—Fear
was expressed to police here today by Fred Gill of Tolietown that his daughter Bernice, 16 years old, has been kidnaped. Since the death of her mother nine months ago the girl has been acting as housekeeper for the family. She left home to call on a girl friend last Sunday night and has not been seen since.

OMAHA MERCHANT PREDICTS BETTER MONEY CONDITIONS

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 2.—Prediction
was made by Ward Burgess, Omaha
merchant, before the Nebraska retail clothing annual convention today,
that the money situation by May, 1
will be as good if not better than it has been in a number of years. He added that Nebraska farmers had helped to improve conditions by marketing their products within the past month.

FLORIDA BANK ROBBERS MAKE HAUL OF $30,000

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., February
3.—Robbers blew the safe of the State Bank of Largo, sixteen miles south of here, today and got away with $30,000. The cashier, who lived above the bank, was held up by two bandits. All telephone and telegraph wires leading from the town had been cut.

POLICE GIVEN STEEL COATS

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 3.—Bulletproof steel jackets will be supplied to all policemen sent out on hazardous missions it was announced today. Recent shootings in which one policeman was killed caused the action.

SCIENCE SEEKS FOR VITAMINES

Elusive Substance Gives Zest
and Real Value to the Food We Eat.

FLEES THE TABLE D'OTES

Scientists Concentrate on Separating
It From Viands, but Without Success—Differ as to What a Vitamin Really Is.

New York.—Food values are of especial interest these days of high prices.

One dines at, say, a restaurant in New York city's "Latin Quarter," famed for its atmosphere but uncertain as to cooking. The food is mentioned casually on the menu in several languages—but the chicken is tasteless, the potatoes boring and the salad disappointing. However, one is hungry and eats largely. An hour later, the pangs of hunger again make themselves felt. One finally resorts to the home icebox and partakes of some humble bread and butter and milk,
and that indefinable lack is satisfied.

The reason for this state of affairs is not far to seek. Vitamins! At such places the food is deficient in these intangible and microscopic substances, which scientists have proved
are essential to nutrition and which are to be found in a large number of properly prepared foods but are destroyed by excessive heat, drying or other methods of preservation often
employed for economy or convenience.
The mystery of the vitamin is, therefore, of vital interest, as its name implies, to the world at large.

What is a Vitamin?

Just what is a vitamin? This question is still perplexing chemists, according to a recent article by D.
Atherton Seidell of the public health service, in the current number of the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. These elusive substances have been found necessary not only as dietary factors but even for the prolongation of life. Their exact nature,
however, still remains a mystery,
though much has been discovered concerning their effect on the human system and the general benefits conferred by them. For instance, experiments have proved that animals can live indefinitely on a diet of milk alone. But supply all the constituents of milk
separately—proteins, carbohydrates,
fats and salts, in fact, all the known
food elements—and the animal wastes
away and finally dies.

Several theories are held in regard to this problem. Some scientists incline to classify vitamins as structural compounds of living tissues,
which function along the same lines
as the other tissues. Others relegate them to the "catalysts," those strange substances which have been aptly defined as "chemical parsons," as they accomplish the chemical union of various substances without being themselves affected. Many think that they are derived originally from plants, and one well-known scientist
states that they are always present
in natural foodstuffs instinctively consumed by men and animals.

Three Types of Vitamin.

At the present time, three types of vitamin are known to exist: The
water-soluble variety, found in milk,
yeast, and other substances; the fat-
soluble ones, which are present in butter and egg yolks; and a third class,
designated as "antiscorbutic," which is found in a number of fresh vegetables
and fruits and also in the outside husk of rice. Lack of these necessary food constituents results in various ills—scurvy, beriberi, and other diseases.

In fact, the importance of the antiscorbutic factor was discovered purely accidentally, as a result of an epidemic of beriberi among the rice-eating Eastern nations after modern milling methods obtained in these countries
and the surface layer of the rice was removed. When an extract of this husk was eventually supplied, the disease was prevented.

Lack of both the other types of vitamin result in a gradual wasting away. This, in the case of the fatsoluble vitamin, is accompanied by blindness and often by lung trouble,
but the wasting process is more gradual, as the system subsists for a while
on its reserve store of fat.

JAP'S DAUGHTER DENIED PLEA

Withdraws Application for Citizenship After United States Agent's Protest.

New York.—Miss Phyllis Mimi Ko-
mori, an art student of White Plains,
N. Y., whose application for citizenship
was held up some time ago by Justice
J. Addison Young of the Supreme court
because her father was a Japanese, although her mother is an American by birth, withdrew her application when
a federal agent appeared before the court and announced the government would not permit a person of Japanese origin to be naturalized.

The case of Miss Komori, who was graduated from the White Plains high school two years ago with high honors,
has attracted wide attention in Westchester county. Her mother is a public school teacher in this city. Her father is now in Japan, where he has been since she was one year old, when he abandoned her mother in London.

STEWART TELLS CONTRACTORS OF ZINC, ITS USES

J. B. Reynolds of the Indianapolis
Chamber of Commerce in an address
of welcome at the second annual convention of the Sheet Metal Contractor's Association of Indiana, at the Denison hotel last week prophesied
that the "purchasing strike" is about
over, and that all the people could stimulate business by buying.

E. W. Norman, Indianapolis, president of the auxiliary to the association, urged a more friendly relationship between the metallic contractors
and said that sheet metal men
throughout the state by failing to be on a more friendly basis, had lost
business to other special lines.

"Sheet Zinc—Its Uses," was the subject of an address by C. H. Stewart, of Greencastle and the subject
was discussed by all the members.
The president, Joseph C. Gardner, Indianapolis, announced the appointment of the nominating, resolutions,
auditing, apprentice and grievance
committees.—Indianapolis News.

BRITISH NAVAL HERO SLAIN IN IRISH ATTACK

Dublin, Feb. 3.—District inspector Francis Worthington Craven was one of those killed in the ambushade
Wednesday at Ballinalee. He served in the navy during the war and received the American Distinguished Service order. While commanding
the British destroyer Mounsey, he saved 600 American soldiers from the American transport Otranto, when the vessel was lost as a result of collision with the steamer Kashmir
off the Scottish coast in October, 1918.

Inspector Craven retired from the navy with the rank of lieutenant commander and only joined the royal Irish constabulary a few weeks ago.

Nine Killed in Limerick

ken and Newpallas, County Limerick.

FEDERAL ACTION TAKEN TO COLLECT HAAG FINES

Preparations for levying on the property of Julius A. Haag and Louis E. Haag, brothers who were paroled last Sunday from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, to collect the fines and costs of the case, were begun today by Frederick Van Nuy
United States district attorney. Mr.
Van Nuy issued a praecipe to the clerk of the court, Noble C. Butler,
for a writ of execution to be issued
to Mark Storen, United States Marshall. Each man was fined $10,100
so the total of the fines is $21,200.
Added to this is the amount of the court costs, $259.37, or a total of $21,459.37.

In case the brothers refuse to pay
the fines, the marshal would have power under the writ to seize enough
of their property to satisfy the writ
and sell it.

WELLESLEY GIRLS DESERT CLASSICS TO BE MECHANICS

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 3.—The young women of Wellesley college
turning from the classics to utilitarian studies are learning not only how to drive their automobiles, but also to be trouble shooters when need be.

The complexities of ignition and carburetors are being explained to thirty of them in a new automobile course by Prof. Lucy Wilson of the physics department. Within a few days they will advance from the theory in books to the practice in delving into grimy connecting rods
and piston heads, carburetors and magnetos to trace out trouble.

Whether the present popularity of the class will continue after the girls
get the greasy hands and smudged
noses that mark the motor mechanic
is a question that may involve the future of the course.

HARDING'S CRAFT AGAIN STICKS IN FLORIDA MUD

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 3.—The houseboat Victoria, carrying President elect Harding on his vacation
cruise up the Florida coast, got into difficulties again today and fell so far behind her schedule that he distinguished passengers may leave her tomorrow or Saturday and complete their trip to St. Augustine by rail. The Victoria's most serious delay occurred a short distance above
Pompano, where she rammed her nose
into the mud and was held so tightly
that her own engines could not extricate her. She was pulled off by the speed boat Sea Robin.

PASS ANTI-CIGARETTE BILL

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 3.—
The anti-cigarette bill forbidding the

TO MAKE NEW FUEL DISTILLATE

Former Waste Material to be Refined and Turned into Usable Product.

$50,000 YEARLY SAVING

Vinegar-Making More Profitable Than
Fuel Manufacture—Formerly Cost
Money to Have the Waste Material
Carted Away.

HONOLULU, Hawaii.—A new industrial distillate plant, where denatured alcohol for motor fuel purposes will be manufactured in large quantities from pineapple waste, has been opened here by a California
packing corporation.

It was three months ago that it was decided finally to build the plant,
and now everything is in place and
ready to operate on a full-size scale.
A test of the outfit was given recently and about 500 gallons of alcohol
were produced, testing 94 per cent.
C. S. Ash, chemical engineer of the corporation, built the plant. He came to the islands in 1912 and is now in charge of the chemical research department.

The value of the plant lies in the fact that it is not only turning into usable products a former waste material, but it is actually saving the expenditure of dollars and cents to have this waste material hauled away. The pineapple waste, composed in the
main of scales, core and lost liquids,
is refined and turned into a profitable
output where it formerly cost the corporation about $3.50 a ton to have the waste hauled away and placed on the pineapple fields.

The corporation's cannery uses between five and six million pounds of sugar during a season. Now by using the waste about 2,000,000 pounds can be recovered. In addition there is enough calcium citrate extracted after the sugar has been removed to more than pay for the operation of the plant. The building and equipment cost approximately $50,000 and the corporation expects to recover
this outlay within the next year.

J. P. Foster, of Paia, island of Maui, holds the patent on the motor fuel
process, but there is not as much profit in making the fuel oil as in vinegar manufacture. About 20,000 gallons of motor fuel will be manufactured for the purpose of the plant and the rest used in vinegar making.

The California plants of the corporation use a million and a half gallons of vinegar a year. One gallon of alcohol will produce seven gallons of 20-cent vinegar, while it would produce but one gallon of denatured fuel oil selling at 25 cents a gallon. The fuel oil, however, gives more power than most fuel products. Since it leaves no carbon deposits, it is remarkably clean.

For every 2,000 pounds of fruit that go into the cannery, 1,200 pounds are canned; 450 pounds represent juice
which in turn is transformed into 40 pounds of sugar and four pounds of citric acid, and the remainder thrown away; 350 pounds is waste matter
which is thrown into the six large vats of 25,000 pounds. From this waste matter the distillers extract two gallons of alcohol and one and three-quarter pounds of citric acid.

When waste is thrown into the six fermentation vats in the distillery,
the mash is covered with water and allowed to ferment. After it has coached a stage of heavy fermentation, the liquid is drained off and
nothing but the fiber of the pineapple remains. The liquid finally goes to the big still which can handle 36,000 gallons of liquid mash a day. Here
the alcohol is refined and then run to the denaturing tank. The process of denaturing means that the pure alcohol is mixed with five per cent. sulphuric acid, two per cent. kerosene and one per cent. pyridine. To make the motor fuel this is further mixed in a preparation of 60 per cent. denatured alcohol and 40 per cent. sulphuric acid. After the liquid leaves the denaturing tank it is run into other tanks.

The process of denaturing requires that ether be bought to start operations, but after the plant gets into operation, the denatured alcohol is used to make ether and ether used to make denatured alcohol.

Before the liquid mash is sent to the still it is run into settling tanks
and most of the impurities are removed. Here the mash is stirred in a big tank, lime added and, after filtering, a cake of calcium citrate containing 70 per cent. pure citric acid is obtained.

Of course, the business is kept in operation only about 100 days each year, but it can be kept up throughout the year if molasses can be purchased here cheap enough after the close of the pineapple season.

"Jinx" Ship Goes to Havana.

NEW YORK.—"I Hear You Calling
Me," may or may not be the popular
air sung on board the yacht Kanawha,
formerly owned by a millionaire
sportsman, which has gone to Havana for reasons not explained. The craft was placed in the government service early in the war and had so many mishaps that it was said to have been "jinxed." Now it is owned by the Black Star line, which is interested in the Ethiopian republic.
The master and all the crew are negroes. It is expected that the Havana "favor" will brace up the spirits
of the argonauts.

HAAGS MAY GO TO STATE FARM

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—Consideration of the issuance of a commitment of Julius A. Haag and Louis E. Haag, Indianapolis drug store owners, who returned to Indianapolis Monday after serving six months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., to the state farm to serve thirty days
each and pay a fine of $400 and costs
for operating a blind Tiger probably will come up today in Criminal court before Special Judge W. L.
Sparks of Rushville, who heard the case against the two Haag brothers in October 1919. The Haags were found guilty October 23, 1919, on the first count of an indictment, and appealed the case to the Supreme court.
Before going to the Atlanta penitentiary the appeal was dismissed. The case has been pending in the Criminal court.

Prosecutor Evans said he had talked over long distance with Judge
Sparks in Richmond, where the judge
was hearing a case, and was advised by Judge Sparks the matter would be taken up today if he returned to Indianapolis en route home.

I am going to insist that the judgment against the Haags stand, and will make no recommendation of dismissal, said Prosecutor Evans.

HAAGS EXPECTED TO SEE THE U. S. MARSHALL

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—Louis
E. and Julius A. Haag, senior proprietors of the Haag drug stores who were released from the Atlanta Federal prison on parole last Sunday and returned to Indianapolis, were expected to confer with the United States marshal today in regard to
the payment of their fines and costs,
amounting to $21,461.72 with interest of about $700. At the result of the announcement yesterday that a writ of execution for the payment of the fines and costs had been given to the marshal, a representative of the Haag brother's appeared at the office
of the clerk of the court, Noble C.
Butler to learn the requirements in the case.

The representative asked the clerk
when the fines were due and was told that they became due when the judgement of the court was entered June 23, 1920. The representative said their understanding has been
that the fines and costs were not due
until the expiration of the eighteen months jail sentence.

He said that he would confer with Louis and Julius Haag and that they probably would come to the city
today to take care of the matter.

larnes, assistant Federal district attorney, announced tonight. Warrants will be issued for the arrest of

Charles J. Arnold.....Proprietor

Founded.....1858

Published Friday at the office, 17 and 19 South Jackson Street, Greencastle, Indiana.

The editor has heard men talk about road making and road repairing by two's by squads, by platoons and by companies, and has never yet heard two who can agree on what is the best way to build and maintain roads, although every man is positive that he knows just what is the matter and how to fix things. That a thing so vital to the public welfare should be so little understood scientifically ought to make people who boast of our material progress stop and ask themselves why we can't build as good roads as the Romans built 2,000 years ago.

BITTERLY PLAYS CRITICS OF U. S. RECORD IN WAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Declaring he was not in politics and was not going in, Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, ex-chief of supply procurement for the American army in France bitterly attacked today what he charged were political attempts to discredit the achievements of the people who won the war.

In the course of a five hour examination by a House war investigating committee, Mr. Dawes struck with sledge hammer blows at critics who had tried, he said, to detract from the glory of the great achievement by picking flaws and parading trivial faults 3,000 miles away. At times the air was thick with a streak of oaths for which the witness frankly confessed he had neither apology nor excuse.

Late in the day, he reiterated an earlier off-hand statement as to his own part in politics, which was accepted to mean they would not be come a member of Mr. Harding's Cabinet, a position with which his name has been linked. Even before his views on this subject were expressed, Mr. Dawes sharply denounced the present system of conducting the Federal government, an evil of a hundred years' standing he declared, with which investigators might better afford to deal instead of trying to scoop up water already over the dam.

Denies Extravagance

Mr. Dawes was called by Democrat, ic members of the committee to rebut testimony relating to waste and extravagance, and particularly with reference to liquidation of American accounts in France and sale of surplus stocks to the French government. Answering charges that food and clothing supplies might have brought more than the $400,000,000 paid by France, Mr. Dawes turned sharply upon one of his questioners, Representative Bland of Indiana, and shouted:

"It is just that sort of fool argument that forced Great Britain to hold onto its stock and attempt to drive a hard bargain. The stuff is there today, rotting. You can not discuss an exparte question 3,000 miles away. There is no use to try and throw mud when you were not there to know conditions. England lost billions of dollars by listening to a lot of people who were afraid of muckrakers at home. They are raising the devil in England now because England did not sell its supplies when we sold."

Mr. Dawes said as a matter of fact he thought France was charged too much.

Proud of the Job

"Here you come now and charge," he said, "that we should not have sold sugar. The War Department ordered the sale. The sugar went in a lump lot with the junk. Everything was second hand. We got $4,000,000 for it. We liquidated every account, and we did it because a lot of big men quit their own jobs and went over there to help. We cleaned the slate and Congress today still has pending claims that date back to the revolutionary war. It was a big job and we are proud of it. In finding fault and hunting responsibility you don't have far to go. Pershing was the commander in chief and his shoulders are big enough, thank God, to bear it."

Mr. Bland questioned Mr. Dawes about excessive prices paid for equipment and material.

"Sure we paid," he said. "We didn't stop to dicker. Why man alive, we had to win the war. It was a man's job. We would have paid horse prices for sheep, if the sheep could have pulled artillery to the front. The man like Johnson there," he said, turning to the chairman of the committee, "was standing at the front to be shot at. We had to get him food and ammunition. Oh it's all right now to say we bought too much vinegar and too many cold chisels, but we saved the civilization of the world."

DAWES CURSES LIKE TROOPER DEFENDING RECORD OF A. E. F.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Another broadside was let loose by Charles G. Dawes today against the congressional, al methods of investigation of the conduct of the war.

Attacking what he characterized as a partisan attempt to blacken the name of the whole American army because of the blunders of a few, the ex-brigadier general in charge of supply procurement in France declared the committee could serve a more useful public service by turning the searchlight upon the waste of millions of government dollars right under their nose.

A group of women in the crowded committee room failed to prevent Mr. Dawes from swearing like a "buck" private. He strode around the committee room hitting harder than he was hit, and swearing madly every time he construed the questioning as a reflection on any part or parcel of the fighting outfit of which he was a part. Chairman Johnson, himself an ex-service man at the front, told Mr. Dawes at the end of the hearing he wished there had been other witnesses as truthful and as unafraid to speak out in meeting.

Dawes Has Good Time

Mr. Dawes made no attempt to conceal the feeling that he was having a very good time. At times the room was in an uproar of merriment, and the echo of oaths swept down the long corridor of the building as he turned his wrathful language upon critics of the war who stayed at home.

Referring to numerous investigations by the House, Mr. Dawes said he thought the people were sick of them.

"Why, there is no longer any news in it," he shouted. "If I was not here, strutting around and swearing, there would be no news in this. Don't forget that it was an American war, no a Republican or a Democratic war, and the record of the glorious work of our army will live hundreds of years after your committee is dead and gone and forgotten."

When the name of Gen. Pershing was brought into the discussion, Mr. Dawes could scarcely control his anger.

"There were hounds in this country," he declared, "who tried to spread the false news that Pershing was at a theatre the night of the armistice. He was there like hell. He was at his office starting the work of canceling vast war contracts to save money. It will take twenty to fifty years for Pershing to get his place in history, but let me tell you the time will come when every doughboy overseas will be proud to say he was one of Pershing's men."

Likes Hell Raising

"You can try to give me all the hell you want, I like it. You kick because I sold a lot of second hand junk to the French government for $400,000,000, instead of keeping 40,000 soldiers there to guard it while we tried to peedle it. My conscience hurts me sometimes when I think we charged them too much."

Mr. Dawes said he was a Republican but was broad enough to give the War Department full credit for its work in getting more men to the front than France and Great Britain put there in the same period. Then he jumped upon the department and denounced it for its refusal to permit promotion of men in the ranks—for privates and sergeants who had the grit of generals. The rule by which men, eager to go overseas but kept at home, were required to wear silver stripes, was characterized as one of the most disgraceful acts of the war.

The award of distinguished service medals came in for a fiery attack. It broke more hearts, Mr. Dawes said than anything else, because thousands of men entitled to the medals were passed by.

Public Not Interested

Mr. Dawes said it was alright for Congress to go ahead and try to find and punish men who made mistakes in the stress of the war, but told the committee it would get nowhere and that the public was not "concerned with those mistakes now."

"And they are trying to say that Pershing permitted the sacrifice of thousands of lives on armistice day. It's the most damnable lie ever uttered. And it's all right to sit back here viewing from a partisan standpoint the work overseas, when if you people so free to condemn had been there you might have done just as we did—or worse. Liquidation? Why hell men, we liquidated everything. There wasn't any wilful destruction of property in France as this committee has tried to show. The junk we couldn't sell was given away—it was cheaper than burning or burying it. They pinned one of those medals on me, but it had a damned sight better gone to some poor devil in the ranks who better deserved it."

Judge E. B. Parker, who had much to do with the liquidation job in France and who was described by Mr. Dawes as "a hard boiled egg" as an army trader will be heard tomorrow by the committee.

VOTE IN HOUSE FAVORS PUBLIC SERVICE BODY

INDIANA STATE CAPITOL, Feb. 4.—With a vote of 50 to 34, the members of the lower House of the legislature this afternoon expressed their desire for the continuance of the public service commission and struck out the enactment clause of House bill No. 75, which provided for the abolishment of the commission and the re-establishment of the railroad commission with the same powers that it had prior to 1913.

The bill was introduced on Jan. 18 by Representative Beryood, Newman, Smith, Republicans and Barker of Posey, Democrat. It was referred to the committee on Judiciary A and was returned to the House with a recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed after it had been the subject of a public hearing, at which a number of manufacturers, owners of public utilities and private citizens appeared to testify. The House, however refused to accept, and the minority report, recommending the bill for passage was accepted.

Overrules Objections

When the bill was handed down by the speaker for the second reading, several members in favor of the bill, including Representatives Bedgood, Smith, Newman and Barker of Posey, objected on the ground that the speaker had failed to announce that the bill would be handed down twenty four hours before.

The speaker refused to listen to the objection, declaring that when he had made the verbal agreement, he had said, that in some cases it would be impossible to comply with the request of the members. Representative Bedgood objected to taking action on the bill, saying that it savored of unfairness. Representative Smith asserted that he was positive that friends of the bill had not learned that it was to be handed down for he second reading, but that it was possible that persons opposed to the bill had received knowledge of the fact.

After the House had been called to order, representative Dailey moved that the enactment clause be stricken out. The motion was seconded by several representatives simultaneously.

Forty nine of those present signed their approval of Representative Dailey's motion by answering "aye" when the clerk called the roll. Thirty four answered "no."

HAAG BROTHERS BEGIN SENTENCE AT PENAL FARM

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Julius A. and Louis Haag began serving a thirty day sentence at the state penal farm.

Riding in their own car and accompanied by Sheriff Snider, to whom they had voluntarily surrendered, the Indianapolis merchants arrived in Greencastle Tuesday. In addition to the month on the farm they each must pay fines of $400 and costs for violation of the state prohibition laws. Though no warrant was issued for the Haags, Sheriff Snider was armed with certified copies of the commitment and judgement papers at the order of Special Judge Sparks.

The brothers were paroled from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., a week ago last Monday, after they had served one third of an eighteen months sentence for liquor law violations here. Steps to execute the order of the Criminal court were taken by Prosecutor Evans following their return to Indianapolis.

Clear Up Business Matters

Herbert Haag, a nephew of the prisoners and part owner in their stores, said that his uncles had made no effort to avoid service of the commitment papers, but had gone to the sheriff with their attorney as soon as a few business matters had been cleared up and had surrendered.

The Haags were convicted here in Criminal Court October 23, 1919, on the first count of an indictment charging them with operating a blind tiger. The first trial resulted in a hung jury and Prosecutor Adams entered a second trial before conviction had been obtained.

Following an appeal to the Supreme court prosecution of the Federal case was started and they received an eighteen months sentence and fines of $10,000 each. The appeal to the higher court was then dismissed pending a decision as to whether an appeal would be taken on the government verdict.

ALBANY, N. Y. Feb. 7.—Jesse Walker, the youthful slayer of Samuel Wilchock, a Brooklyn shopkeeper, must die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison this week. Governor Miller tonight denied Walkers application for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment.

DISCUSS REPORTS ON THE SANITARY CONDITION HERE

The reports of the committees by A. G. Brown, president of the Chamber of Commerce to make an investigation of the sanitary conditions of the business district were read at the meeting of the directors Tuesday evening at a general discussion as to what ought to be done. It seemed that the local reports fully confirmed the rather severe report of the state Fire Marshall and it was felt that the department's criticism was just. It was first resolved that the Chamber of Commerce would co-operate with the state department in getting some things accomplished and in getting on a higher plane in city housekeeping.

The Chamber of Commerce will ask the removal of some fallen down fencing, rotting stairways and sheds that clutter the landscape in the business district. The Chamber of Commerce will also urge the paving of the four alleys that bisect the four squares surrounding the court house; appealing to the property owners to join in this matter for the property's sake.

It will ask and urge the enactment of an ordinance requiring that business rooms where games are licensed be equipped with urinals and toilets and that down town business rooms be equipped with toilets for both men and women.

"We thought we were graduating from the 'high grass' class said one of the directors in an earnest discussion of the matter," "when we put in a sewer system; but it seems that most property owners in the downtown district are still back in the 'Sixties'. The farm homes in the suburbs are better equipped in a sanitary way than we who have sewers within ten feet of the property line. It recalls the story of the doings of some of the Hunyoks of Gary, Indiana who moved into the pretty little sanitary built for them and filled the bath tubs up with coal. We are sure, ly better than that although the evidence is the other way. These property owners have the choice of either cooperating with us, or spending their rentals in fighting the state authorities. Greencastle must clean up."

Several other matters of importance were under discussion by the directors at a very full meeting of the board.

DE PAUW MAN MAKES DARING AIRPLANE TRIP

The most remarkable flight ever made by an army aviator, according to Brigadier General William Mitchell of the Army Air Service, was the thousand mile trip made by an alumnus of DePauw University, Lieut. C. B. Austin, in the face of a hurricane, over the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea.

Lieutenant Austin, during the war, drove a night bombing plane in France, but even this service was not as full of thrills and adventure as he found in his recent attempted trip from Panama to Washington via the air route.

The story of his flight is told in the Literary Digest of January 22, and follows in part:

"He encountered a succession of tropical storms, including a wild gulf 'Norther' which tossed him about like a chip in the air, tore the canvas tips from his propeller, and chewed splinters from the hard mahogany edges. Nearly shaken out of his whirling plane by the terrific vibration which followed he turned and managed to reach his starting field in the Panama Canal Zone, after ten and a half hours of one of the most adventurous flights on record.

"Austin understood that if he failed in this attempt, he would never be given a chance to repeat it; but since then, in a recent dispatch from Washington, it was announced that he will be given one more opportunity to make the record hop.

WAS FORCED TO GIVE UP HIS JOB

EVANSVILLE MAN WAS ON VERGE OF GENERAL BREAKDOWN—TANLAC PROVES MERIT

"Well, sir, to see me now some leisure time, playing ball with the kids, no one would ever think that just a few weeks ago I was right on the verge of a general breakdown," recently said Wesley Brookriede, of 303 Ross Ave., Evansville, Ind., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac.

"For two or three years before I got Tanlac my stomach had been giving me trouble, but about six months ago I got worse all of a sudden and went down hill rapidly. After every meal I bloated up with gas, had intense pains and burning sensations and felt miserable for hours. I had no appetite, was racked with pain day and night, and finally got so weak and run down I had to quit work altogether.

"Well one day a friend put me onto Tanlac and I consider that the greatest favor anybody ever did me. I have just about taken three bottles of this medicine so far, and actually my stomach trouble is gone completely. I eat three big meals a day, sleep fine, feel good, am gaining in weight and strength right along and am back on the job able to do as good a day's work as the next one. From this on, Tanlac will always be the medicine for me."

Tanlac is sold in Greencastle by R. P. Mullins, A. R. York, Cloverdale and Geo. Fox, Reelsville.

MUST PAY HIGH FOR PASSPORTS

European Countries Tax Americans Equivalent of $10, the Rate Here.

LESS FOR OTHER TOURISTS

President Mitchell of the Red Star Line Suggests Action by the United States Chamber of Commerce—Peasants Go Back to Land.

New York.—According to Percy V. G. Mitchell, president of the Red Star line and general manager of the International Mercantile Marine company in Belgium, the charge of $10 for an American visa on passports is not only a tax upon immigrants who have to pay the high rate of exchange, but also upon American business men abroad.

"Since the charge for a visa has been raised from $2 to $10," said Mr. Mitchell, "the countries in Europe have retaliated by making Americans pay the same amount. They have arranged to base their charges for a visa on a sliding scale. For example, I have to pay 175 francs for my visa at the Belgian consulate because I am an American, while an Englishman has only to pay 10 francs, which is a big difference when a man is accompanied by members of his family."

All Are Doing It.

"Since the war Europe has been split up into a number of small countries, and each of them is charging Americans the equivalent of $10 in United States currency. A business man has to pass from one country to another to get anywhere, and in each case he has to pay heavily because the State department in Washington, without any reason that I have been able to learn, has raised the fee to $10."

"The citizen of the United States has to pay $10 for his passport in the first place, and then to pay another $10 to return from abroad, and the same amount for the countries he visits on the continent. Why the United States Chamber of Commerce has not taken up this question, which is so important to American business men traveling through Europe, I am at a loss to understand."

Tourist Travel Hit.

"In addition it will also interfere with tourist travel in the summer, which had already decreased considerably through the increase in passenger fares made necessary by the high cost of operation of the steamships, increased wages, food, fuel, etc."

Mr. Mitchell said the Belgian government was putting the peasants back on the land in Flanders, and in place of the small cottages with earthen floors which were demolished by the German guns they were erecting neat, small houses with tiled floors and modern sanitary conveniences. From what he had heard recently in Brussels before sailing for New York, the government would not rebuild Nieuport, the former fashionable seashore resort, as it had been blasted to pieces by shells and bombs, the avenues approaching it being ruined.

Dixmude, where the severe fighting took place at the bridgehead on the Yser, was to a great extent demolished also, but the people had started to return there in the summer of 1919 and build on the ruins of their former homes. The Belgian peasant loves his country and does not want to go abroad to live, Mr. Mitchell added.

INNOCENT, SERVES 15 YEARS

Swiss Convicted of Killing Girl to Be Freed—Real Culprit Makes Confession.

Geneva.—After serving more than fifteen years of a life sentence for a murder of which he has always claimed to be innocent, a young man named Hirschbrunner is to be released, the real culprit having confessed.

On the day following a masked ball at Soleure in May, 1906, the body of a young Swiss girl was found in the waiting room of the railroad station, where she had been strangled to death. She had been seen the previous evening in the company of a young man dressed as a peasant woman. The description of her companion tallied with a costume worn by Hirschbrunner, and he was tried and sentenced to life imprisonment entirely on circumstantial evidence.

Breaks Wooden Arm as He Punches Man's Nose

Welty, an alleged doorkeeper of a suspected gambling joint, broke his wooden arm over the head of Philip Hack, a Tarentum (Pa.) business man, who is reported to have tried to enter by force the room which Welty guards. The blow seriously damaged Hack's nose. Mayor Seibert fined Welty $12.60 on a charge of assault and battery.

HEAVY BUYING IS REPORTED

CHICAGO, February 3.—Retail merchants have cleaned their shelves of surplus stocks and again have begun to buy heavily in preparation for an active season this spring, according to leading wholesale dry goods men here today. This means according to J. V. Farwell, president of the J. V. Farwell Company, that prosperity has returned.

"When it became apparent that the public would not purchase merchandise because of high prices, retailers curtailed buying," said Farwell. "Now they are buying what they want, and desire a great deal, which indicates a return of consuming power."

The spring wholesale buying season, which started to become active early this week, is featured by the arrivals of thousands of retailers who report they expect to do a good business this year.

THEN HE RAISED HIS HANDS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., February 3. W. H. Bergman, a business man at 920 Washington avenue, was slow to see that two men, who entered his store Wednesday evening meant business when they commanded him to raise his hands.

When a bullet fired by one of them whizzed past his head his hands went up immediately and the robbers proceeded in an orderly manner to empty his cash drawer. They obtained $700 in currency, checks and notes and disappeared in an automobile.

The store of J. T. Hudson, 2329 Cleveland avenue, was also robbed Wednesday afternoon. The robbers got between $8 and $10. They also escaped in an automobile and the police think the same men robbed both stores.

Spring Suits Are Tempting

SPRING, having dawned over the horizon in the world of fashion, lures us to study of new suits—and an early Easter is an incentive for making an immediate choice. The new models are as "easy to look at" as a pretty woman—and as hard to resist. There is nothing quite so tempting—except the new hats to be worn with them—and both have beautiful innovations in styles to offer.

At this writing, dark blue, beige and gray are in the ascendant in colors for suits, but not monopolizing attention, and there are many shades in them. Colors are quiet, designs unusual and much attention given to embellishment, in which embroideries lead. Two very smart exponents of the styles in the embroidered coterie are shown in the suits pictured. A dark blue twill at the left has a coat that is plainly of Chinese inspiration, hanging in straight, cape-like lines, and with flaring sleeves. The silk embroidery is in self-color. Nearly always there is a gleam of silver or gold thread in these embroideries, or the introduction of a little soft contrasting color, sparingly used. The skirt in this model is very practical—wide enough for comfort—and plain. It makes a fine background for a handsome sash of satin, bordered with a looped fringe. The coat fastens only at the neck, revealing a frilly blouse beneath. It is a youthful, springtime model, open at the throat and cool looking.

The suit at the right of the picture will delight those who love trim, straight lines; it hardly acknowledges a curve and emphasizes this fact with buttons that extend to the top of the standing collar. Flaring sleeves, embroidery about the arm's-eye, and large patch pockets that extend below the bottom of the coat, are all noteworthy, good points in the smart style of this model.

Everything Glitters

THE goddess of Fashion must have had a twinkle in her eye this year when she turned her thoughts toward spring millinery, and almost everything in hats reflects that twinkle. Colors are reserved and rich—they can afford to border on the sedate, for the most comprehensive description of the new models is found in the phrase "Everything Glitters." It fell from the lips of an expert millinery authority, after a study of a great collection of new models, but is not meant to convey that everything has a hard brilliance. Hats are radiant with a play of light over surfaces that catch and reflect it.

The outstanding feature in spring hats is cellophane materials, sometimes alone, but oftener in conjunction with other fabrics. Fashion has led up to this brilliant stuff by the vogue for beads and embroideries and, after several seasons of experimentation, manufacturers have advanced cellophane to the place of first importance. The new hats—of whatever material—are soft and light, their lines beautiful and becoming and their colors rich. Laces, flowers, bows, veils and handsome ornamental pins are the trimmings featured.

includes four hats that are representative of the season. At the top a chic street hat has a crown of cellophane and a draped brim of corded moire, all in gray, with two coral pins by way of finish. It is a simple but immensely clever bit of artistry. At the right another gray hat of cellophane, with a gray rose of folded ribbon at the front, divides honors with a very handsome navy veil. A lovely dress hat at the left has a body of black hair-braid with rows of narrow cellophane applied and a flange of malines about the graceful brim. A wreath of fine flowers and a generous sash of French blue ribbon completes a hat that every woman loves. A similar style below, of navy hair-braid and cellophane with a wreath of old blue poppies, fulfills the mission of a less picturesque but equally pleasing demidress hat which is equal to many occasions. Black and brown are great favorites and the refinement of lace and malines in both colors is an allure-ment that designers make the most of.

In Selecting This Bank

as their banking home, our patrons were influenced by one of several reasons.

Some because of the recommendation of friends; others at the invitation of the bank to try its service. Some selected us because of our location is convenient for them, while others were glad to come a little out of their way to utilize our facilities.

Everyone is here because "we satisfy." That is a pretty good reason for selecting your banking home.

BETTER NEWS ON WAY SAYS THE COAL REVIEW

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 4.—"Better news is on the way," says "Coal Review" in the foreword to this week's issue which sees signs of an early business revival. It reads:

"If you're down in the mouth, cheer up. The silver lining is beginning to show. Production may be in the doldrums for the moment, but it has been worse. Remember January 1919. The market may be flat, but everywhere there are signs of early business revival. And we're not going into midwinter with a 40,000,000 stock pile like we did after the armistice."

"The wheels of industry are beginning to speed. It takes a little time to go from dead center to full speed. And it takes coal to do it. The faster the wheels go, the more coal they need."

"The cloud in the Senate still hangs over the industry, but much able testimony has been placed before the LaFollette committee during the past week. That portion of the truth elicited by the Calder Committee is being dovetailed with that portion which the committee failed to put in the record. I look as if he whole case will be before the Senate when the present committee gets through."

"And there is the export trade. It isn't ephemeral. It's here to stay if the coal producers of the United States will cultivate their foreign customers."

"And look for better times. Think better times. Talk better times. They are on the way, and you can lend your influence to speeding them along."

THE BUYING POWER OF A DOLLAR

At a time like this when the scarcity of money is handicapping every kind of business, it is surely a business proposition to study each of your investments so that you get the greatest return from each DOLLAR of CASH you invest.

There is one line of business that everyone invests in that they know very little about, study very little about and invest with the first person they see, never knowing just what they have or whether they can get more for their money.

This line is INSURANCE. There are MILLIONS spent for INSURANCE each year without studying COST or POLICY.

No good business man would buy anything else without knowing he is getting the best article on the market at the lowest possible cost.

If men should handle all their business as they do their INSURANCE, they would be a FINANCIAL FAILURE.

INSURANCE is the safety valve to all lines of business.

INSURANCE is protection. Pure and simple. Nothing else.

There is no investment in any Policy written either Fire or Life.

If your home burns, Insurance rebuilds it. If a man dies, Insurance furnishes money for the family to live on.

We can save you money on INSURANCE. It costs you nothing to talk to us and get our Proposition, which will be from 10 percent to 20 percent less than you are paying for FIRE INSURANCE, and we can give you an illustration where a man recently left $1000.00 LIFE INSURANCE where if he had been paying us the same amount of Premium his family would have received more than $2000.00.

If you are interested in what your DOLLAR will buy come in and see us.

YELLOWSTONE PARK ELK ARE DEAD OR "SPOOFING"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Some 10,000 of Yellowstone Park Elk are either dead or "spoofing" park officials by hiding out. On the ranges where thousands have been seen here, to fore only a few have appeared this year and officials are admittedly worried.

The herd was estimated at 25,000 in 1914, but dropped to 1,700 in 1917, with less than half of that number now accounted for. Unless the alarming shrinkage can be checked or it is found that the elk favor higher hills in open winters such as the present a few years, it is feared, will complete the extermination of the herd.

Beware of the Hawk

Seventy per cent of the egg crop is produced during spring and summer. Then is when the legitimate dealers store a surplus against the time of need. Then also is when speculators buy eggs cheap and store them for high winter prices. But the producer receives none of the storage profits.

It was a most successful tournament. More than $1,000 was taken in Saturday at the door and as expenses are not great the High School association will have a neat sum to divide. The profits of the tournament is divided equally between the athletic departments of each school participating in the meet.

Referee Ross Smith is a peach of an official. His good nature and clever way of handling the high school boys kept the team members and the spectators in good humor. He is absolutely fair and impartial and deserves highest praise for the manner in which he handled the tournament.

It was a nip and tuck affair Saturday night. Greencastle did not have a walk away by any means and worked hard for a victory. Coach Newgent of Russellville deserves much credit for the class of basketball played by his boys.

The DePauw gym was crowded to capacity Saturday night for the final game. Putnam county sure has a lot of basketball enthusiasts.

When "Cabbage" Black, local forward, was taken out in the second half because of four personal fouls, there was some fear in the hearts of the Greencastle rooters that his loss might mean defeat to the locals. But "Dick" Taylor, who took his place assured them, by his playing, that there was no need for worry. In Taylor the team has a substitute who can go in at any time and make good.

After the locals had gained a five point lead in the second half, Coach Smith did some clever manipulating in substituting players. He put Gillen, Bryan and Taylor into the fray in rapid succession thereby using up a little of the remaining time by each substitution. Coach Smith had a five point lead and he wanted to retain it until the whistle blew. And he did retain his lead.

The last three games were interesting ones. Cloverdale, Roachdale, Greencastle and Russellville all have fast and well coached teams.

"Tubby" Moffett, former DePauw guard who played in the curtain raiser with the Coach Team, was right there and his work was closely watched by the spectators. For Moffett is expected to be a member of the Tigers again next year and his admirers wanted to ascertain if he had gone back any during his seasons lay off. He hasn't.

If Greencastle continues to improve as it has in the last few weeks, Greencastle is apt to spring another surprise in the State Tourney.

Look out for Russellville in the district tournament. Those lads are some basketball players and may spring a surprising comeback should they meet Greencastle again this season.

Superintendent Frank Wallace had a difficult job in awarding the trophy. The spectators instead of remaining in their seats following the final game so that the superintendent might make his awarding speech swarmed onto the gym floor and crowded home. Wallace finally got the crowd quieted sufficiently to make the award.

Watch this boy Foster. He is some basketball player. And he gets better each game. Masten, Zeis, and Black are going good and Eugene Peck, who cavorted around the back guard position played a whale of a game. Peck proved himself a real back guard in the tourney. In fact Greencastle, today, has the best balanced, smoothest running basketball team in its history.

Jimmy Zeis is the only team member who suffered an injury in the game. Jimmy collided with another player and fell heavily to the floor. He was all right in a few minutes, however, and played through the game and by the way, Zeis, while he got only one basket, came through with a timely one, as Russellville was leading when Zeis dropped one in the basket and put the locals in the lead again.

A hundred and seventy five were seated at the tables and partook of the menu of black bread, rice and cocoa, prepared by the Domestic Science classes of the High School and served by the Putnam county Red Cross Society members.

The number of guests does not signify the number of tickets sold for the banquet, as many persons purchased tickets who did not attend the banquet. DAN BRACKNEY SUGGESTS DATE TO BE SET ASIDE AS "WOODROW WILSON DAY"

EVANSVILLE, Ind., February 2.—The suggestion of William B. Carleton, new president of the Vanderburg Democratic Club that the club set aside a day to be known as "Woodrow Wilson day", to be observed by Democrats in all parts of the United States, has brought a suggestion from Daniel C. Brackney of Greencastle that the local club select the day on which the Versailles treaty was signed and then call on then call on the Democrats of the nation to observe this day. The Greencastle man says that Woodrow Wilson's name was the first on the treaty and he regards this as one of the great events of the President's life.

DEATH CALLS MRS. THOMAS ON SATURDAY

Shock following an accident at the home of her son, Charles Thomas in Terre Haute Friday afternoon, when she lost her balance and fell down the cellar stairway into the basement, resulted in the death at near 2 o'clock Saturday morning of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Thomas, age 78, one of Putnam county's most beloved women.

Mrs. Thomas had been in failing health for the past year and a few weeks ago went to Terre Haute to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas. On Friday afternoon while in the kitchen at the home of her son she lost her balance and fell down the stairway.

Immediately following the accident she was taken to the Terre Haute hospital where she could be given the best of care. A thorough examination developed the fact that although she had suffered some cuts and bruises there were no broken bones.

Although the injuries suffered were not severe, the shock proved too great for the aged woman to withstand and death came shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Thomas was the widow of the late William Thomas, a pioneer Putnam county farmer and resided for many years on the homestead farm in Madison township.

About ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Thomas moved to Greencastle and resided just west of the city limits on Walnut street. The death of Mr. Thomas occurred two years after they moved to town.

Mrs. Thomas leaves six sons, Henry Thomas, Oscar Thomas, Fred Thomas, and Cleve Thomas, all of Greencastle. Charles Thomas of Terre Haute and Elmer Thomas of Lawton, Oklahoma. Henry Thomas is at present in the south where he had gone to spend the winter.

Immediately following the message received here Friday afternoon telling of the accident, Oscar Thomas and Fred Thomas went to Terre Haute and were with their mother at the time of her death.

The body will be brought to Greencastle today and taken to the home. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Williams and Rev. Levi Marshall at the home. Burial will be in Forest Hill cemetery.

TAXPAYERS TO OPPOSE MORE ROAD WORK

Putnam county's commissioners will receive a petition from every township in the county at their regular March meeting protesting against further construction of roads within the county until prices become lower and conditions are stabilized. Hundreds of signatures are expected.

The remonstrance probably will mean at least the death of six petitions now pending for road improvements. The construction of the six roads at a cost of $150,000 was scheduled to be let to the low bidder in January, but through a technicality, action was held up. Protest also is expected against three pending concrete road petitions which construction will cost nearly $1,000,000. It is understood that the commissioners will be asked by one of their number to go on record as favoring a postponement of the proposed concrete roads for a year at least.

It is evident that there are as many taxpayers opposed to the roadbuilding project at this time as there are persons in favor of going ahead it is said many more taxpayers are willing to sign the remonstrances than were on the original petitions.

JOHN BROWING STRICKEN; DIES THURSDAY NIGHT

The death of John C. Browning, age 64, for many years a resident of Greencastle, occurred at near midnight Thursday of last week following a stroke of apoplexy.

The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Locust street church and burial was in the Forest Hill cemetery. Beside his widow, Mr. Browning leaves one son, who resided at home with his parents.

Mr. Browning was stricken with a stroke of apoplexy at near 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the S. C. Prevost store. A taxi was called and Mr. Browning was taken to his home. He had lost consciousness before he reached home and death came shortly after midnight.

Mr. Browning had during his many years of residence here been engaged in the farming and contracting business. For the past several years he has not been engaged in active business because of an illness of heart disease.

A BAINBRIDGE BANK ROBBERY CASE ON TRIAL

Trial of the suit of Roscoe White, a resident of Monroe township, to recover $1,900 which he alleges is due him by the Farmer's State Bank of Bainbridge, for the loss of liberty bonds, which were stolen when the bank was robbed several months ago, was started Monday in the Putnam Circuit Court.

It will be remembered that thousands of dollars worth of Liberty bonds which had been left at the bank for safe keeping, or which had been paid for but never taken up by the purchasers, were stolen when bank robbers broke into the safety deposit safe of the bank, several months ago.

Twenty nine persons who lost bonds in the robbery have filed suits against the bank in an attempt to recover their loss. The bank officials deny liability on the grounds that the bonds were left at the bank at the risk of the owners; that the bank used every precaution to avoid a loss and that the loss was not the result of any carelessness by the bank officials.

The present suit is the first of the twenty nine suits to be tried and it promises to be hard fought. James & Allee of this city and J. S. McFadden of Rockville are the attorneys for Mr. White in the suit, while Hays & Murphy and Gillen & Corwin are representing the bank.

Charles Moffett, of this city, who was president of the bank at the time of the robbery, is a defendant in the case.

Most of the day was devoted to the selection of a jury. Two women, Mrs. W. O. Timmons and Mrs. U. V. O'Daniel were among the original twelve jurors and jurymen and indications are that at least one and maybe both will be retained on the jury when it is finally agreed upon. Many jurors were excused for cause and indications at 2 o'clock were that the entire day was devoted to the selection of a jury.

MISS LOIS BROWNE IS CHOSEN TO LEAD THE LOCUST STREET CHORUS

Miss Lois Browne, teacher of music in the public schools has been secured by the Music Committee of Locust street church to form and lead a chorus for the music of Sunday and regular worship of the church. Mr. Alvin Thomas is the organist and this new plan assures the congregation and friends who worship with them that the music of the hour of worship will be well provided for and of a high order. This is good news for the pastor and the people as this feature has not been up to the standard this conference year, because of various difficulties which have been hard to overcome but are happily solved now by the Music Committee. In this new order of things, the new plan begins next Sunday.

DE PAUW TRIMS DETROIT TEAM SCORE 33 TO 17

DETROIT, Mich. Feb. 5.—Detroit Junior college was unable to solve the dashing attack of DePauw university tonight and fell before the Hoosiers, 33 to 17.

Experience and speed were factors which told heavily against the Detroiters at all stages and while they played all the basketball they knew it was not sufficient to more than momentarily slow up the Orange and Black. DePauw led at half time 15 to 8.

ELKS CONCERT MAKES

Miss Sybil Sipher and Miss Mary Schwartz, members of the Sipher Schwartz Concert Company, fully entertained a large audience in the auditorium of the High School Friday evening. The concert given under the auspices of the Elks Lodge. It may truly be said that these musicians play anything, everything, for on the stage were Sleigh Bells, Staff Bells, Four in a Bell, Marimba, Marimbaphone, Xylophone, Violin, Mandolin, Musical Bells and a Piano.

The program was opened by William Tell Overture played by Sipher and Miss Schwartz on Xylophone, followed by several numbers on the staff bells by Miss Schwartz. Other popular and fashioned airs were played on Marimbaphones, Sleigh bells, Mandolin and Musical Glasses.

Miss Sipher was the hit of the evening with her Banjo, and her characterizations of Scientific, Minnie Negro and Jazz playing. Several times she responded to the entreaties of the audience.

Miss Schwartz rendered pleasing numbers on the violin, most charming and impressive. The program closed with Medley in which the musicians played their full equipment of instruments.

These young ladies are musicians of ability and deserve commendation and merit for their splendid entertainment. The event carried by these young ladies when packed weighs a half ton.

UNIVERSITY MUST PAY FOR PROTECTION

At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday night a ruling was passed whereby the University must pay the city for the fire protection that is furnished it by the city.

It was shown the council last night that the city of Greencastle maintains eight fire hydrants at the annual cost to the city of over $940, for purpose of protecting University property. Besides maintaining the eight hydrants that serve the fire plugs are maintained by the that serve little else but University and fraternity property. It was brought out in the meeting that the Lafayette University pays the city $2,500 for the maintenance of fire plugs and for the protection furnished the school. Indiana so pays the city of Bloomington its fire protection.

It was shown also, that almost percent of the calls answered by local fire department are to University and fraternity property and the loss of property to the college through fire in the past ten years has been almost nothing. On one occasion Rector Hall was saved from serious damage from fire and on two occasions the old West College building now known as Asbury Hall has been saved from almost certain destruction by fire. It has also shown that in the winter just past that the department has saved Middle College the domestic science building and Rosa Bower from serious damage from fire.

It is thought by the council in view of these facts and the additional fact that the city maintains streets and street lights for the University, that the University should be willing to pay a fair and just amount to the city for the fire protection it receives from the city.

It is also brought out by the council that the city can not be forced to furnish fire protection to the University, and that in case the city should refuse to furnish this protection the institution that the state marshal would compel them to furnish their own equipment for protection.

Two members of the city council and two members of the Chamber of Commerce have been appointed to confer with the University officials on the matter.

It has been pointed out by Greencastle business men, however, that the tax exemption given by the city to the college is in the nature of money paid as a bonus for location of the plant here. DePauw is Greencastle's greatest asset, bringing to the city hundreds of thousands of dollars each year and even tax less costly than the steel plants and other enterprises. It is believed that an amicable adjustment can be reached.

A permit was granted to the County Commissioners of Putnam County to block West Washington street for the purpose of excavating to make repairs on the county building plant.

A motion was passed to the effect of putting automatic hydrants on the three watering troughs in the city. These hydrants will only be used while they are being held on. It was thought that the hydrants will reduce the cost of supplying water at these three hydrants.
